Growth in Sage ERP X3 Practice Fuels Expansion for RKL eSolutions

Sage Authorized Partner and Top 100 VAR expands the firm with addition of seasoned, strategic Sage X3 consulting talent.

Lancaster, PA – October 22, 2010 – RKL eSolutions (<http://www.rklesolutions.com>), a business software and technology provider headquartered in Pennsylvania, reports that dynamic growth in the company's Sage ERP X3 practice has led to the recent addition of new personnel. The addition of Brian Williams and William (Bill) Wilson to the Sage X3 consulting team at RKL eSolutions further strengthens the Sage Partner's position as a market leader among ERP software providers.

Joe Noll, President at RKL eSolutions, is delighted to have two very skilled consultants join the firm. "Both have a very different and complementary experience with Sage X3 and are just phenomenal to have on our team. If you look at Brian and Bill together, you'll see in-depth development, customization, and implementation experience across a wide range of companies and industries. Together, they bring a unique perspective to our team that few Sage partners can offer."

In particular, Noll says the timing was right for hiring Williams. "Our Sage X3 practice is exploding and Brian is a seasoned implementation guy that worked directly for Sage. He's been working with Sage X3 even before it broke in to the North American market so his product knowledge is unmatched. He has implemented the product for a wide range of industries and companies around the world. He's a big addition for us and his contribution to projects and as a team resource will be significant."

Noll also points out that Wilson, the other addition, brings noteworthy Sage X3 experience as an end user. "Bill's former company was running Sage X3 so he brings tons of experience in all key areas of the product – implementation, product use, and customization. He has an extensive background in custom development and has touched every piece of Sage ERP X3 as a result of his own daily use. It's the kind of 'walked a mile in your shoes' experience that will generate immediate rapport with clients."

The addition of new talent and expansion of the firm serves notice to the Sage customer and partner community of RKL's commitment to Sage X3. "The addition of these key personnel demonstrates that we're committed to the product and in this for keeps. We can provide the Sage X3 support and expertise our prospects are looking for and existing customers need, regardless of whether they're in the planning phase or already daily power users."
